

パネリスト / Panelist

Prof. Ram M. Shrestha

Adjunct Professor, Asian Institute of Technology

Study history and main work experience:

D.Eng. in Resource Economics and Management, 1986

Professor of Energy Economics at Asian Institute of Technology, Thailand (till December 2009)

Visiting Professor, IDEC, Hiroshima University (April-June 2010)

Lead Consultant, ADB's study on Regional Economics of Climate Change in South Asia (Part 1) (since 2009).

Expertise:

Energy and environmental economics, energy-economic modeling, economics of GHG mitigation

Main publications:

1. Coauthored Books: i) Energy Policies in Asia; ii) Guidebook on Baseline Emissions of Clean Development Mechanism Projects; iii) Good Practices on Prevention and Control of Transboundary Air Pollution; iv) Bio-coal Technology and Economics
2. Several papers in energy economics, environmental policy and GHG mitigation in refereed international journals such as Energy Economics, Journal of Environmental Economics and Management, Energy Policy, Climate Policy, The Energy Journal, Journal of Environmental Management.

Additional introduction

- Editor, International Energy Journal (during 2007-2009);
- Associate Editor, Energy Economics (till 2007) and Energy-The International Journal (currently);
- Guest Editor, Energy Policy (in 2010)
- Member, International Advisory Board of (i) ASCE Journal of Energy Engineering and (ii) Carbon Management
- Recipient of The Energy Journal's Best Paper Award from the International Association for Energy Economics (IAEE) in 1991
- Recipient of the Emerald Literati Network's Highly Commended Award in 2009